

15 June 2015

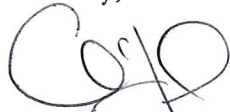

Colleagues and students,

The Office of Student Conduct (OSC) is pleased to announce a new policy that will come into effect 14 June 2015. The new policy will allow students to petition to void a single minor violation related to alcohol and/or marijuana. The requesting student must have completed all requirements associated with the conduct process and must have no other violations for a two year time period. The vast majority of students have a single conduct record, and we want to provide those students with opportunities to have their record accurately reflect their good behavior. It is our hope that this will provide students who have a single interaction with OSC with an incentive to maintain good academic and disciplinary standing throughout their academic career at WSU.

Students who wish to petition under this new policy should contact my office with any questions about what particular records can be removed and how to submit a petition. More information about this process is available on our website, conduct.wsu.edu. We are hopeful that this will help to uphold our community values and high standards of WSU students.

Please contact us at 509/335-4532 with any questions you may have.

Sincerely,

Adam Jussel
Director, Office of Student Conduct
Assistant Dean of Students
